1. No activities were observed at Mockau airfield on 10 July 1953 or were there any changes observed in the installations.
2. At 11:30 a.m. on 10 July, air activity by three gliders was observed at Leipzig-Mockau airfield. The gliders were towed to an altitude of about 20 meters and, after flying for about 300 meters, landed again. Fifteen FDJ members and 2 VP were seen near the craft. Next to a destroyed hangar, a single-story building with two large gates was under construction. On 9 August, 20 FDJ were observed at the field. There was no gliding activity. The single-story building had been completed. Improvement work was under way on the VP guardhouse and on an apartment house.

Comment: No changes were observed at Leipzig-Mockau airfield. Gliding activity by the Athletic and Technical Association was light. The airfield was previously used by commercial aircraft only during the Leipzig fair.
